

*got this from a friend (Long Islander). could not edit it... you'll get the gist.
A new twist to watch out for.*

12 hrs ·

I got a call from VISA this morning 8am to tell me my card was used in India 15 min. ago for $600.00. Asked if I had my card, yes we will cancel your card for you. We have the first 4 digits give us the rest to verify your card #. We will wait while you get your card so I do not have caller ID so I said I am not giving this to you because I do not know who you are. Oh I am the supervisor, I still said not giving you my # I will go to the bank & cancel myself instead I called VISA no transactions for $600.00. Visa will not ask you to verify your #s they have them on file. Great I starting to feel better because this really upset me. 9 oclock the same ahole calls with the same spiel, I told him I talked to VISA already CLICK He hung up. Please to all my Friends and anyone that reads this please be careful. I do not post much but this is very important. PS they did know my address.

